

WINTER YIN MEDITATION WEEKEND IMMERSION

winter + the water element

24th july 4pm - 6pm

26th july 7am - 9am

each season has its own unique qualities reflected in our minds and bodies winter is time of the water element the kidney bladder organs and meridians are sensitive time to conserve and contain our energy support and balance the spine and nervous system winters energy is downward encouraging meditation and stillness nourishing the inner life in this workshop, students mindfully explore practices specifically related to winter, the water element and vata gentle postures will focus on the kidney and bladder meridians targeting spine, low back, neck.

come along and explore the gentle meditative side of yoga with practices informed by winter themes. we meet on zoom (a recording is available if preferred)

$100
